Looking after each other....

THE WORKS OF MERCY EXPLAINED

This illustrated guide explains the corporal and spiritual works of mercy
to children ages 9-12.

Using examples from scripture,
saints, and people of today,
including Pope Francis,
each section shows children
how to practise works of mercy.
While learning the meaning behind each act of mercy, they will be inspired to develop a spirit of mercy toward family, friends, parish, and the wider community.

Concrete examples of mercy in action and questions for individual reflection and group discussion allow children to see how they can help develop new paths for mercy or enrich those that already exist in their world:

Looking after our planet...

While they were speaking, a bee flew from a branch toward Clara's arm. It only brushed against it, but Clara, thinking she had been stung, moved back in fright.
"Gentled said to her: "Don't worry. The bee didn't do anything.
It was only trying to tell you that it's preparing the honey for the next time you come to visit."
"That's true, Gentled."
And saying that, Clara raised her hand in greeting and called out:
"Hello, Sister Bee."
"Thank you and good-bye."

HELLO, SISTER BEE Laudato Si' Retold for Children

In a fun, captivating way,
children are motivated
to care for 'our common home'. By following Thomas and his sister
Clara's adventure,
children learn the message that Pope Francis presents in his Encyclical Letter Laudato si'.

For children ages 5-8.
